Dear colleague

Sustainability Committee's inquiry into access to inland water in Wales

On 15 July 2009, the Sustainability Committee agreed the following terms of reference for its inquiry into access to inland water in Wales.

To examine the current position for access to inland water in Wales and to make recommendations.

The committee is keen to hear the views of as many people with an interest in the subject as possible and would like to invite you to submit a written response to the questions in the attached annex.

The Committee will use the written evidence, along with oral evidence taken at a number of hearings to be held between September and December this year, to scrutinise and make recommendations to the Welsh Assembly Government on the issue of access to inland water. The hearings will be held in public and will also be available on Senedd TV which can be accessed from our website. A full verbatim transcript of each hearing will also be produced. All the written evidence we receive will be published on our website (subject to the disclaimer at the end of the attached annex).

As we are keen to hear the views of as many people and organisations as possible, please pass this letter on to anyone you think would like to respond to it. An electronic copy of the consultation letter can also be found on our website at:

We welcome contributions in Welsh and English. Please submit your evidence in electronic form if possible.

I would be grateful if you could submit any written evidence by Friday 19 September 2009 to Virginia Hawkins, Clerk to the Committee, at:

Sustainability.comm@Wales.gsi.gov.uk

Hard copies should be sent to the above address.

Further information regarding the Committee's inquiry into access to inland water in Wales can be found on the Committee web pages at:

Please note:

It is normal practice for the National Assembly to publish evidence provided to a committee. Consequently your response may appear in a report or in supplementary evidence to a report. The National Assembly will not publish information which it considers to be personal data.

In the event of a request for information submitted under UK legislation, it may be necessary to disclose the information that you provide. This may include information which has previously been removed by the National Assembly for publication purposes.

If you are providing any information, other than personal data, which you feel is not suitable for public disclosure, it is up to you to stipulate which parts should not be published, and to provide a reasoned argument to support this. The National Assembly will take this into account when publishing information or responding to requests for information.
